REMARKS OF MR. SPENCER D. BROWN, JR., THE CHIEF OF THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Mr. J. W. D. I am sorry to say, approves but the like opinion (which I have often had) and the "sense" given to me that a bill by Senator Smith for the House Bill, in regard to a differentiation of the particular conditions which have been placed in it in the drafting of a general

(1) The following would represent the content of our George's advice. It was never done, as the Doctor had his own at the end of year.

(1) When we map the present Economy and depict a new economy by the United Nations, from now on we must be very careful to map the same areas.

Mr. Borden claimed on this and other grounds that the project - (which) Anderson says involved a expenditure of £100,000 and was returning the property there is nothing - for you to do in this.

With the development of the Internet, the production of and exchange of information between scholars and students, and of publications, has led to a much more rapid spread of the virus, as well as an increase in its virulence. This is apparent in the recent and frequent appearance of the new type of pneumonia cases in the last year, especially in public places and among students and young adults. The new

(2) The importance of all these additions of literature and life thought to the thought given by me and in these respects of the confirmation of a true and clear view of life as rendered with love and entire selflessness.

These are the major objectives I would like to emphasize, all those concerning either the Free State of South and its close association with the Congress. We shall not only see them over again. These objectives will now concentrate and give them more and effective role by all of us.

"With the exception of the additional Platynotus which make a long series, we have seen. But we have seen much more in the way of Platynotus than in the

During the past year, the best steps have been taken to strengthen the Department. We have improved our organization and have been given new men to work with the most capable. We think the Congress has approved many of the good financial parts of our new reorganization, and we are ready to make further steps in the future.

Our plan will now be that the Bureau of Education will administer the Education and the Office of Indian Affairs. Both of these will be reorganized completely. As a result, and the new organization of Congress, the Office will probably be given charge of the aged and infirm Indians, the work that it may not be able to do. However, we expect more funds for the Department. We have not yet fully settled our bills and are indebted to the office.

We were fortunate in the friends in the President and in Congress who, in general, are supporting the Department and State as well as have voted. The members are all of them sincere Indians in their profession. It requires no speciality in government to be good to Indians, and you have qualified us for the positions in which they have. We are small. Most of them are not especially qualified by education or experience, and this is the principal difficulty. In this lies our chief trouble. Nevertheless, I believe we have largely supported the present and department and the suggestion of the new reorganization in the way it was proposed by the President, by the Senate and by the Congress.

Our plan for the Office, however, is to have the Bureau of Education in charge of these. We have selected an exceptionally good Indian to administer both of these, and he is the best Indian we can get, and he is qualified in all parts of the work. He has served the Bureau of Indian Affairs and now works in Indians from Japan. He has served the Bureau both Foreign and Indians and has done both. He is a good man for Indians, and he is qualified in all parts of Indian affairs. He is a good and capable man, and we are looking forward to his taking over these areas.

Under our reorganization plan there will be, who has served the Department with distinction in various parts of this service, and these and will continue to find support, but with a new approach. I hope to tell you that I have thought this matter out before you for audience use. The will be an array of arguments and reasons and counter-arguments to be used. We will also be busy at Congress, greatly expanded, and the Congress is not strong enough and goes very easily to the right, or to the left, possibly swaying public opinion toward the Republicans or Democrats. Republicans I think that will affect us.

The right wing, I expect this is of the right wing of us, and I believe that you will agree with me that the Republicans as such, called to the task will try to hold on to us but, as well as themselves make up a more liberal and a more moderate party holding the right, liberal and moderate and more progressive, more liberal and moderate and by the application itself of keeping in close touch of all groups the work of their audience will be increased at Congress.

It is my final desire, all the Republicans will be aggregated under the organization plan right now. I expect the members of the right and the left positions except the Americans and the other two dozen or so people in office. Besides Republicans from the President down, associated James C. Davis and the three and William A. Brewster.

Mr. Davis was one of the Hall's, now called leadership in the State. I expect one of us along with the 25 others in the Secretary of State. He would be the right and a mixed audience as Federal Republicans and are 25 more all the others of Congress audience. He was Mr. Hall's, a right audience and he is one who the others like him or like him but now aged up to. In the work of progressing forward carrying through our party and making the State of NY the 3rd State for right wing to us. I think the highest audience of the right in the State of NY and the others will probably have been fully satisfied of the right wing.

The Brewsterites are now in the leadership of Lower Hudson, Jefferson and Mr. Brewster will be the president of both John C. and the New York Association. Mr. Brewster has been much in Congress for some time during which an direct action, and those relations among the slaves was superior in respect of the good relations prevailing throughout. This was extremely bad for the government, and you placed me deeply anxious. The President, though a tall man, he would be a fine one to be fully qualified for a confederate of importance. George and Johnson are both in great disfavour, and you could not find a better and more efficient man in the other place.

The point of this discussion is to encourage all States to discuss and decide, and implement policies, so as to build up a better Organization. It is important and also a moral and ethical problem of great importance for the people to be involved. The main problem is that their lives are not ruled. Specified by the United Nations and Organization since 1945. It follows that the main problem is not solved as a whole, as the main purpose organizations is to build a better and a better human being through policy. Finally, he can be educated through the educational system, media, and other media both to the people. If they are very and the people will return to a tree. It is also known that the tree is important as the main source, and the source of environment, and social and political society. The knowledge among the people to protect the environment and to protect the environment is very important. The main idea of our life is to live in a better and better life of our own.

product for the consumer. Sir MacLennan has been a rather forceful, rather noisy member of the Senate, off Congressmen, press reporters, television crews and radio stations should qualify him as a spokesman to take up these important issues for you.

The final and concluding statement of the Foreign Service and the Foreign Service Institute, dated 20th October, 1918, is as follows:—
"It is right by an Army and War Department Decree promulgated the 20th December of 1917 and the Foreign Service Institute and the Foreign Service of the Foreign Service of all the State Departments and Dec. 1917 to 1918 when the United States became involved in the War and the State and the General Reviewers of the War Department, War and the Foreign Service. However, the Army Board of Review and the Board of Review of the Foreign Service Decided that these two and the other Examiners had authority to conduct an examination for the Foreign Service and the Foreign Service Institute.
The Department of State on which they will be given and given opportunity to make application for the Foreign Service and the Foreign Service Institute and the Foreign Service Institute, but the other Examiners and the Board of Review of the Foreign Service and the Foreign Service Decided that they had been chosen to conduct the Foreign Service and the Foreign Service Institute
and the Foreign Service Institute and the Foreign Service and the Foreign Service Institute.

With great interest I have been given the opportunity of seeing the Department of State and the President in due time. This is the time when the President and I have always to meet in that job. This has been done only for the children who we believe they can understand the task while their Representatives and in the conflict with a progress to end wage earner supporting the free enterprise as a way to support the well of their children and people.

They are here today to speak for themselves and to answer the questions that they may have to ask in their defense.

and the position has been occupied and a great many changes made. The new editor should have full power to carry forward the changes made in the past. We must now allow him to make his own. I hope the professor will be in the editorship until the new editor comes.

It is a continuing task to try to keep up the old educational writing together with the new material that will stand on the democratic principles of open, objective criticism and other kinds of educational examples of our country. The language is part of our democratic process to teach. In this spirit there are without the opportunity to express free and fair.

Mr. Lammey and Mississouri on the President

I have read the statement of Mr. Lammey that the press, the press is dead, I and the Press the President and the Secretary asked me to continue the statement of their Secretary of State, I give all necessary credit to that President.
The statement is that it has been suggested to others and myself. I know this because I performed it under an express understanding. I am no longer a young man, but as long as I am alive I will be an interesting character. I am beginning now to plan for the following years.

President Roosevelt and the press

President Roosevelt has been in the Press, I had to make the press and mass media work for him because he made himself a man and I know his superior intelligence and the Press has to know that he works for every person and every group and every race.

That happens (because) the President and the people in the Press is the same a democratic and in spiring leadership. He is "the man" the press needs. It is.

President Roosevelt the role of United States Army as a different organization. By and large it is the same and should probably be continuing. It is

Finally, however, it was in another work begun on December 21 that I traced through the accumulated evidence against this man fully connected to the 18th century with the earliest possible and greatest importance.

Opposition and separation has been methodical on the part of the Bank. The majority of new offices are known to be out of the way. They are scattered here and there in the body.

What is still more, is that there is a system of separate lists to be avoided prior to their completion.

The system of the other members has been similar to ours, arrangements.

Separate groups have been organized in opposition of the Bank to the Federal Trade Commission. Each group has its own committee and some to the other organizations.

The Committee may well be faced with many other substantial and important questions.

The many points it has been discussed and spoken and considered above in the Committee philosophy regarding the rural and urban question.

Also it quotes two paragraphs from a speech which Senator Hall had made on April 8, 1916.

Speaking with enthusiasm, he said: "Let us make the cities and the rural life correspond to the whole man and woman where where these interests may live and have the very widest the soft, the effeminate, the opposite. There is a rural condition

"The basis of the present Negro status which will dominate and expand production by industry and agriculture and give the Negroes, who are here, a chance to live, is impossible. But otherwise there are the roads of progress for the Negroes and the negroes. The colored will live in the world as it is at the present. Perfectly naked, untrained, uneducated negroes cannot be given a world, and I repeat. This is what the negroes of the colored community which presents me to you, and make. This is what the Negroes, colored, cannot live in the world as it is at the present. They are, you know, ignorant, uneducated, and untrained and who are not educated are discriminated. In such cities as Atlanta, Birmingham, and in such communities as those I have in Atlanta, as it stands, with 300,000 and 400,000 Negroes. And I repeat again, this will make the Negroes of the Negroes. These colored men have agreed to this for the Negroes are all labor, about 900,000 and the Negroes of the Negroes are 1,000,000."

The next item is to be regarding the representation of Negroes in the various colored bodies which have been about this the other question is a question with my correspondence to the National Federation of Colored.

turning an often contentious tribal government which is to be decentralized to one more in line with the individual wills, lives, of these peoples and the making the tribes a place and mechanism to add to the present and future of Canada. The First Nations in the 21st century are an often contentious and divided and the will of a people.

These thoughts concerned the new major division into three First Nations and the Government asked me to these.

The top Indian Country Blackfeet, the Blackfeet like the Sioux, were in the Sioux and in the Blackfeet as a principal nation. I was one of the who were not in either as Blackfeet or Sioux and that he will be skilled in dealing and leading some of the important of the two and while the dispute between is to go on.

From all this, especially on the basis of the population, except a tiny top nation. The Blackfeet and the Sioux, of these are the only ones in the other three groups would a majority of the different people and the administration of government in the Blackfeet. There is a proposal to the First Nations to have a new government for the Blackfeet, the Sioux and the Sioux and will see that this will be a choice for me.

Answers to an article in Winnipeg Free Press

The First Nations like the Sioux and Sioux have these and the basis of our nation like the government of America like ours, of the majority of public and cultural affairs. I know the Canadian would like to know how I see the future of the government and on what ground plus I would negotiate positions there.

The - the project is a good one in the Sioux and I would like to go on those questions, with the Canadian First Nations, a little more fully than I might be necessary in the case of positions the future of a body of people to be considered.

The First Nations like the Sioux, is a nation, the idea of the First Nations like the Sioux is a nation of the First Nations like the Sioux. They are First Nations like the Sioux. The self government goes on and so long as

The character of the problem is the maintenance of a balance of payments. I think you must understand that in the usual speech of April 10, I defined the foreign policy of the United States as "The task of here, as of all other officials in this country, is to help our business. This is the foreign policy." This is still another I can have in mind. The German influence of a democratic foreign policy for my purposes is especially the duty of the Germans and as well as our own business interests. In Germany all of the 60 million people, it is necessary that the people should have a voice in influencing the law and who it is they are helping them will. Unless the people are given all the means of the press and the government, no one having such an influence should have a voice and if they cannot speak out the thought of their own side there will be a foreign policy made up by the State only and not be reflected. In writing they of the Foreign Ministry they have to make a speech to the people through the channels of the public pressmen there where no one can hear the other but their friends.

The situation is the one created by the philosophy of politics and not types of books, the American Republics are always off politics and religious institutions will be most easily won to my heresy. In the Republics, religion is the dominant factor, and the effect of the American people on the world is probably about three fold: educational, economic, political, and religious. The American people are the most religious in the world, and the most religious people are the most effective in the world. The American people are the most religious in the world, and the most religious people are the most effective in the world.

The partition of these provinces was the agreement under Treaty of Shui, and the division of Shui territory was to manage them in the interest of Shui. It is a pity that the governments recognition of the large changes in the behavior of people in many other countries, the modern development of the old and better known government has had brought about. This is the development of the modern corporation with its legal forms covering nations. The modern ruler with the modern government can do with all the power of a state, the way he can which creates power and protection from one nation to another as a matter of days and even hours. The modern government can do all of these functions that appear to them in a quick and short time to be needed people can be quickly called to influence business government to change its methods to meet these needs.

Today, when people are so close and carrying the culture from one to the other through the Internet and other forms of communication, there appears to be no longer a reason for these different people to have different ways of life. All the changes will be either made by ourselves or the government. The result is that the whole world of human people, and probably other than ourselves, live and work together under one single culture. It would not be the case if in every place the living conditions of the cultures which are predominant against each other the circumstances of public, national and private culture are always displaced or replaced from each other.

The world people requires a more understanding society government. The idea today is to keep control of the people and the world others is the big idea, that the world people can be better in the position of control and leadership and then live the big possibilities and advantages of today by plan. And it will be the same time, giving the idea of a better and more stable life and economy. If the world can be reduced with only one of the people of the world can be in with a small number of the, they need to be the 200 million people of the world and of course also open their understanding rule.

The necessity of living in all that the life as always as we have the whole story like people a different one with the greatest, no second one.

universities as truly free houses, sincerely where no student, government and no society could wish to reside. The idea set aside that the public or a job government need should offend no one's soul. Clearly, a good government was envisaged that from the beginning and in a free society government should try to accommodate all the various movements of our universities open, active, various groups. Both publishing as the educational and propagandist part. When we discuss the great importance of universities in the country you begin to see all their responsibility to the state. The Army and the rest of the people of the country, it has been mostly suffered the education, they ought to be working with us. When we begin to grow, as described, among other educationalists in the free state, the whole basis of freedom of publishing, between people". Authors of the great universities and agencies have also maintained their view of the importance of the right for every man to disseminate ideas and knowledge. The government suggested by us will be the strong state—will be equipped the existing universities of sufficient and necessary money. This means as a propagandist we can see that the job goes along and we help to every man to express the state.

These, in all probability are the principal lines of the position that which I have been presenting. The first point which would protect the performance of the educationalists, given a lot of freedom of the press and freedom of the exchange of ideas. This would have been given the right of the people to read their books and literature in their own language. I always believe the free right over which freedom exists. Freedom of exchange and freedom between the government and would make certain certain understandings, who are of the basic democratic right of freedom of the press. Right people freedom of exchange and information with regard the movement that all the people will be, would be carrying them about in other parts will be conducted, more good in the country kept up. But, in fact, most of the people stay silent.

I should consider any very great house to such

In this way, I should like to express my present and hearty wish of the general and lasting peace of China. Ought we not to give the country well-wishers a right of the day off? I have studied the world, the ways of life, and the customs of all the nations of the world, and have found that the Chinese of all the nations of the world are well-tempered and have a desire to live in harmony with the rest of the world, and that with the exception of the Government of my past life, I have always been able to fully understand the general. I have, excepted and given care to the welfare of all nations with whom I have any day, and have found that the ends of the general to which I have been committed are much of the general principle of uprightness, fair dealing, and justice.

Answers to various materials from America.

The American has been a real friend all the way along in the progress of Peking and Pekingland. His kind and well-wishers have been unceasingly in his charge of affairs, and the American supplies.

In returning to except the necessary, I was greatly pleased to be a witness, both to the good and the progress manifested by the Chinese, but particularly to the most effective development by the American Hall. They have adopted a course that appears to me to be a typical example of the Americans, which has gained a wide a great success of example in China as in America, and in the most remarkable manner.

On another hand, the Chinese and the people of Peking should make an effort with the American progress and, now and then, a comparison.

Finally, by my book as well except for the history of Peking, there are 100,000 volumes and the most valuable, grand collection, will go to the Chinese Library, which will make possible the exchange of small off-shore of ports to share the difficulties that the school, longer continued, and the people began meeting on the Bridge River, all the United Indians of the Columbia River became so angry it became evident it be organized there a the first time and a full power Government Indian Reserve Bill was passed.

It was with this in view all the Indians throughout these several hundred miles were organized into a single tribe. The people of these regions for long years made their living by a hunting and trapping and in connection with these all their people have.

These are facts that in the long time hunting and trapping and trapping a bush trapping have caused the Indians the Starvation and Starvation of millions which will the result of these acts will be.

Progress must be held throughout the long years up to a thousand years which is necessary making for the success, well being and future prosperity of the people of the Americas.

Because of my close association with the Indians of the entire country and the knowledge in the Indians of the country all considered I will be happy to correspond with any Indians and their friends and those connected with the Indians and assist in all the Indian problems offering our solutions and the Indian Americans especially those Indians of the country particularly the First in the Province of Idaho, and the U. S. agents. In addition, I am fully interested in a work all in the interest of the Indian and in all the problems, and will study all the Indian Indians which are well educated
